Subject: Reply to Legal Notice dated 22 September 2026 regarding alleged Non-Payment of Dues for Services Rendered

Sir,

This is in reply to your legal notice dated 22 September 2026 ("the said Notice"), the contents of which are denied save and except what is specifically admitted herein below.

1. That the contents of Paragraph 1 of the said Notice regarding your business are not disputed.
2. That the contents of Paragraph 2 regarding the agreement dated 10 May 2026 and the agreed consideration of Rs. 85,000 are admitted.
3. That the contents of Paragraph 3 are denied. The website and automation workflow delivered on 3 July 2026 were incomplete and did not conform to the agreed scope — specifically, the automation workflow module was never functional, and this was communicated to your client via WhatsApp messages dated 8 July 2026 and 15 July 2026, which remain unanswered.
4. That the contents of Paragraph 4 are denied. Payment of Rs. 40,000 was already made as an advance on 12 May 2026, and the balance was withheld pending rectification of the incomplete deliverable, not out of any refusal to pay.
5. That there is accordingly no breach or unjust enrichment on the part of the addressee; rather, it is your client who is in breach for failing to deliver the agreed scope in full.

In view of the above, the addressee calls upon your client to either complete the pending automation module within fifteen (15) days, or refund the advance of Rs. 40,000 already paid, failing which the addressee shall be constrained to take appropriate legal action, entirely at your client's risk, cost, and consequences.

This reply is issued without prejudice to the addressee's rights and contentions, all of which are expressly reserved.

Yours faithfully,

Rohan Malhotra
